ANNUAL MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | March 31, 2023

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

June 5, 2023

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the views of Counsel Portfolio Services Inc. (“Counsel”) on the significant factors and developments during the year ended March 31, 2023 that have affected the Fund’s performance and outlook. For information on the Fund’s longer-term performance, please refer to the Past Performance section of the report.

In addition, net asset value (NAV) refers to the value of the Fund or a series, as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund seeks to provide a regular stream of income with the potential for modest long-term capital growth by investing primarily in Canadian and U.S. higher-yielding fixed income securities, income trusts, convertible securities, mortgage-backed securities and money market instruments, either directly or through securities of other mutual funds (the “Underlying Funds”). The Fund also invests in Canadian and foreign common and preferred equity securities. The Fund’s asset class weightings generally range between 45–65% in equity securities and 35–55% in fixed income securities. The Fund may invest up to 30% of its assets, either directly or through Underlying Funds, in foreign securities.

Risk

The risks of investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the Fund’s Simplified Prospectus. The Fund is suitable for investors who: seek a Canadian balanced fund to hold as a key part of their portfolio; want a medium-term investment; can handle the volatility of stock and bond markets; and have a low to medium tolerance for risk.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of the Fund’s Series A securities is discussed below. The performance of all other series offered by the Fund is shown in the Past Performance section of this report. Where series returns differ, it is primarily because different levels of fees and expenses were charged to each series, or because securities of a series were not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period. Please refer to the Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by series.

During the year, the Fund’s Series A securities returned –3.67% (after deducting fees and expenses). This compares with a –2.02% return of blended benchmark comprised of 45% FTSE Canada Universe Total Return Index (returned –2.01%), 40% S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index (returned –5.17%) and 15% MSCI World High Dividend Yield Total Return Index (returned 3.22%) (the “Blended Benchmark”). All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses, and commissions, none of which are reflected in the index returns.

Canadian equities fell over the period in local currency terms, driven lower by rising interest rates, volatile commodity prices and forecasts of economic weakness. Employment remained strong, and persistently high inflation led many global central banks to raise their policy rates significantly. Higher interest rates contributed to a crisis in the U.S. banking system in March. In Canada, consumer spending was resilient. The Bank of Canada raised its policy rate by 400 basis points, to 4.50% from 0.50%. As a result, Canadian government and corporate bond yields increased significantly. Within the S&P/TSX Composite Index, Consumer Staples, Consumer Discretionary, and Industrials were the strongest sectors, while Healthcare, Real estate and Financials were the weakest.

The Fund outperformed the broad-based S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index. The broad-based index is comprised of Canadian equities and has no exposure to fixed income securities, whereas the Fund invests in both equities and fixed-income securities. Given the Fund’s composition, the Blended Benchmark provides a more meaningful comparison for relative performance. The Fund underperformed the Blended Benchmark due to its allocation to Real Estate.

During the year, the U.S. dollar (“USD”) and Euro (“EUR”), and British Pound (“GBP”) appreciated 8.22%, 6.10%, and 1.88% respectively against the Canadian dollar (“CAD”) contributing to the Fund’s performance as its underlying equity funds were generally unhedged against those currencies. The Japanese Yen (“JPY”) depreciated 0.78% against the CAD detracting from the Fund’s performance. As of year-end, the underlying equity funds maintained a target hedge of 12.5% against the GBP established on March 28, 2023 but was otherwise unhedged as of March 31, 2023.

Net Assets

The Fund’s NAV declined by $45.0 million, or 10.0%, to $407.3 million as at March 31, 2023, from $452.3 million at March 31, 2022. Of this decrease, $28.9 million was attributable to net redemptions, $14.6 million to investment performance (after deducting fees and expenses), and $1.5 million to distributions paid in cash to investors.

Fees and Expenses

The annualized management expense ratios (“MER”) for Series A, B, F, FB, FT, Private Wealth I and T during the year ended March 31, 2023, were lower than the MER for the year ended March 31, 2022. Total expenses paid may also vary from period to period mainly as a result of changes in average assets in each series. The MERs decreased due to management and administration fee reductions as noted in the Series Information section of the report. The MERs for all series (before and after waivers or absorptions, if any) are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report.

Recent Developments

Late in the period, global economic growth picked up, supported by a warm winter in Europe and the end of China’s “zero-Covid” policy. Purchasing Manager Indexes (“PMIs”) suggest that real activity in advanced economies continues to shrug off the effects of higher interest rates. According to the flash PMIs, GDP and employment growth both got off to a strong start in Q2 2023, even amid the banking sector turmoil. Mitigating this tailwind is the fact that inflationary pressures are no longer easing, meaning that central banks may need to raise interest rates a bit further in order to deflate wage pressures and bring sticky core inflation back to target. However, Counsel’s portfolio management team believes that the majority of central banks globally have now reached or are approaching the end of their cycle of rate increases. The team expects that a systemic banking crisis will be avoided, but that a further tightening in credit conditions will nonetheless add to pressures on the global economy that we already expected to slip into recession later this year. With that in mind, we expect equities to struggle from here. Supporting this view is a group of financial conditions indices that the team tracks which show that financial conditions in advanced economies are about the tightest that they have been since the Global Financial Crisis in 2008-09 and so are likely to act as a headwind to economic activity. Despite market expectations, the team does not expect interest rate cuts in the near term.

On April 3, 2023, The Canada Life Assurance Company announced an agreement to acquire Investment Planning Counsel Inc. (the parent company of Counsel). The transaction is expected to be completed within 2023. Counsel will continue operate as manager of the Counsel Funds and the agreement is not expected to impact the Fund’s operations.

IPC MONTHLY INCOME PORTFOLIO

ANNUAL MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | March 31, 2023

The Fund is slightly overweight fixed income relative to its neutral weighting. Within the fixed income allocation, the Fund is overweight high yield bonds relative to its neutral weighting. In late April 2023, Counsel increased the target GBP hedge from 12.5% to 25.0% and introduced a 12.5% hedge against the EUR within the underlying equity funds. Currency hedging is dynamic and may vary between 0-100% at our discretion based on our assessment of currency market conditions.

Effective March 31, 2023, KPMG LLP was appointed as the auditor of the Fund.

Related Party Transactions

Management Fees

The management fee for each applicable series is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The Fund's management fees were used by the Manager to pay for: costs of managing the investment portfolio; providing investment analysis and recommendations; making investment decisions; the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio; and providing other services. The Manager also used the management fees to fund trailing commissions and other compensation (collectively, "Distribution Related Payments") paid to registered dealers and brokers whose clients invest in the Fund.

The following dealers affiliated with Counsel may be entitled to Distribution Related Payments from Counsel on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation and Investors Group Financial Services Inc.

Counsel used approximately 42% of the total management fee revenues received from all Counsel funds to fund Distribution Related Payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such Distribution Related Payments for the Fund represented 49% of the management fees paid. This amount is an average percentage of the management fees paid by all series. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions paid for that series. The higher proportion of Distribution Related Payments is primarily attributable to the lower management fee paid by the IPC Income Portfolios.

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to Counsel at the annual rates specified under Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Simplified Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, Counsel pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

During the year, the Fund relied on standing instructions from the IRC Independent Review Committee ("IRC") with regards to asset re-allocations.

Past Performance

The indicated rates of return are the historical annual compound total returns, including changes in NAV per security and assuming reinvestment of all distributions. They do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional sales charges, management fees directly payable by investors or income taxes payable by any investor that would have reduced returns. Returns for each series primarily differ because fees and expenses vary for each series. Please refer to Series Information for further information. The past performance of the Fund is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future.

If you hold this Fund outside of a registered plan, income and capital gains distributions paid to you increase your income for tax purposes, whether paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities. The amount of reinvested taxable distributions is added to the adjusted cost base of the securities that you own. This would decrease your capital gain or increase your capital loss when you later redeem from the Fund, thereby ensuring that you are not taxed on this amount again. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your personal tax situation.

Year-by-Year Returns

The bar charts show how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have increased or decreased by the end of the respective periods. For the first year of a series, the percentage shown will be the actual return of the series from its inception date, which can be found under Series Information. The charts illustrate how the Fund's performance has changed over time.

(1) The Blended Benchmark is made up of 45% FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, 40% S&P/TSX Total Return, and 15% MSCI World High Dividend Yield Total Return Index. The return of the Blended Benchmark will not equal the proportionate sum of the returns of its components due to monthly rebalancing factored in the calculation of the Blended Benchmark's returns.

The FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index is a broad measure of the total return of Canadian bonds that mature in more than one year. It includes a broad range of Canadian federal, provincial, municipal and corporate bonds rated BBB or higher.

The MSCI World Total Return Index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets.

The MSCI ACWI High Dividend Yield Index includes large and mid cap stocks across a broad range of developed and emerging markets countries. The index is designed to reflect the performance of equities in the MSCI ACWI with higher than average dividend yields that are both sustainable and persistent.

The S&P/TSX Total Return Index tracks the performance of some of the largest and most widely held stocks listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

(2) Inception dates vary by series. The inception return is only provided when a series has been active for a period of less than 10 years.

(3) The returns of the Blended Benchmark since inception for each applicable series are: Series FB 5.01, Series IB 5.01, Series Private Wealth 5.40, and Series Private Wealth I 4.55.

(1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.

(2) MER and MER before waivers or absorptions ("Gross MER") are based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of average daily NAV during the period. In the period a series is established, the MERs and Gross MERs are annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period. MER and Gross MER may be impacted by decreases and/or increases in management fees and/or administration fees as discussed under Series Information. Where the Fund invests in securities of an Underlying Fund, the MERs and Gross MERs presented for the Fund include the portion of MERs of the Underlying Fund(s) attributable to this investment.

(3) The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs incurred as an annualized percentage of the daily average NAV during the period. Where the Fund invests in securities of an Underlying Fund, the TERs presented for the Fund include the portion of TERs of its Underlying Fund(s) attributable to this investment.

(4) The portfolio turnover rate ("PTR") indicates how actively the portfolio advisor manages the investments. A PTR of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher PTR in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high PTR and the performance of the Fund. Costs incurred to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, are excluded from the PTR.

- (1) Series A, B, and T are the only series subject to sales or redemption charges; these charges are based on purchase options chosen. Securities purchased under the sales charge option may be subject to a negotiated fee of up to 5% at time of initial purchase. Securities previously purchased under the redemption charge purchase option may be subject to a redemption fee of up to 4.5% (based on date of initial purchase); new securities are not available under this option but may be acquired through switching from other Counsel funds. Effective June 15, 2022, the series' management fee and administration fee was reduced from 1.95% and 0.25% respectively.
- (2) These series are designed for investors who want to receive a fixed per security monthly distribution.
- (3) A negotiable advisory or asset-based fee (plus sales taxes) is payable by investors to their dealer(s) in connection with the securities held in this series. The fee may be collected by Counsel from the investor's account through redemption of securities and remitted to the dealer at the investor's request. Alternatively, the dealer may collect it directly from the investor. Effective June 15, 2022, the series' management fees was reduced from 0.95% (including Series I, IB, and IT management fees which are charged directly to investors).
- (4) This series is designed for investors who want to receive a monthly cash distribution at an annualized rate of up to 6% per year (8% per year prior to October 14, 2021).
- (5) The management fee for this series is 0.75% and is payable directly to Counsel generally through the monthly redemption of securities.
- (6) Counsel may, at its discretion, waive or lower the management fee (either directly or indirectly) and/or administration fee payable by investors. Individual investors may be eligible for a management fee reduction subject to meeting certain requirements as discussed in the Fund's Simplified Prospectus.
- (7) This series is available solely to those investing through a private client service offering from IPC Investment Corporation and IPC Securities Corporation.
- (8) There are no management fees for Series Private Wealth. An investor must enter into an agreement to participate in a discretionary managed program offered by IPC Securities Corporation and agree to pay certain asset-based fees.
